Position: Travel Operations Assistant
Type of position: Seasonal, full-time position, 40-hours per week, Monday to Friday
Dates of employment: April to end of August 2025
Location: Gastown office, Vancouver, B.C.
Wage: $17-$19/hour depending on experience

Job Description:

Assist the Operations Team with planning and operating individual and, at times, group travel programs throughout Canada and/or Alaska. A key component of this role is checking the details and catching any errors before they happen. Responsibilities will include regular communication with our suppliers, as well as general office duties, and administrative support for our remote team.

Duties will include:

- Adding sold trips to the shared Trip Calendar.
- Reconfirming all services with suppliers to ensure what Entrée has planned is what the supplier is providing, and what the guest is expecting – with some exceptions, reconfirmations should be handled via phone-calls 3 to 5 days prior to service.
- Assisting the Operations Team with supplier bookings, reservations, and confirmations.
- Taking initiative to resolve missing or inaccurate confirmations – alert Operations Manager of anything incorrect that cannot be resolved quickly.
- Preparing Managers for on call duties by ensuring Managers are aware of any nuances or potential supplier issues and recording these on the Trip Calendar (includes Meet and Greets, Welcome Amenities, boxed lunches, float planes, weather issues, parade or event issues, etc.).
- Order and arrange Welcome Amenities or guest specific thoughtful gifts (within budget) – includes confirming the total cost of the amenity after delivery fees, gratuity, and taxes.
- Tracking inventory and recording expenses for welcome gifts and other purchases - includes collecting receipts or folios and logging information.
- Being in touch with Suppliers on behalf of Operations Managers:
  - to coordinate boxed lunch orders and forwarding orders to appropriate suppliers
  - to ensure we have appropriate forms, contact information, and payment information.
- Updating Amenity programs including contacts and offerings
- Updating Operations Assistant Manual at end of season with new information and changes/updates from the season.
- Answering the telephone.
- Supporting other team members as required

The Travel Operations Assistant's main priority is performing accurate supplier reconfirmations. Reconfirmations should be handled 3 to 5 days prior to service (with some exceptions, like car rentals, which can take place even earlier). The bulk of reconfirmations should be handled by phone and the assistant should log: the date, who they spoke to, and items of note (for example, confirmed payment terms, confirmed late check-out, corrected transfer departure, etc.). At peak season, you may find that some suppliers prefer to reconfirm by email. If that is the case, then the assistant should email far enough in advance to provide adequate response time (email 5 days out instead of 3, for example). Other duties become secondary if the Assistant finds they need more time to finish reconfirmations but should notify their immediate supervisor when that is the case.
